- C. Go in for a competition.

14. What does Daniel offer to do for Nancy?

- A. Rewrite her lines.
- B. Drive her to the theatre.
- C. Help her with the practice.

原文

M: Hi Nancy! You look worried. What's wrong? W: Well Daniel, have you ever felt nervous on stage?
M: Sure. Do you remember that play I was in a few years ago? I knew my lines, but I was terrified to have to recite them in front of an audience. As soon as I saw the crowd of people down there, my heart beat so fast that I was unable to say a single word. W: That's how I feel just thinking about the spelling competition next week. M: I didn't know you made it to the finals. W: I'm worried I'll get nervous and freeze on stage. I might forget how to spell everything, even my own name. I don't know what to do. M: Nancy, I know that you're not going to forget how to spell your name. I'll help you get through this. I'll go to the school hall with you to practice. Then I'll teach you an exercise my baseball coach taught me. Believe me. It works. W: I feel much better now. Thanks, Daniel.

15. What was Prof. Stone's grandfather afraid of?

- A. Leaving his home.
- B. Parting from his son.
- C. Taking early retirement.

16. What does old age mean to many elderly Americans?

- A. Lack of moral support.
- B. Loss of self-worth.
- C. Change of living habits.

17. What will Prof. Stone talk about next concerning elderly people?

- A. Public services they ask for.
- B. Health care available to them.
- C. Contributions they can make.

原文

W: Hello, ladies and gentlemen! Today, we have invited Prof. Stone to talk about the role of elderly people in our society. Welcome to our show, Prof. Stone. M: To begin with, I'd like to tell a story from my own life. Several years ago, when my grandparents were well into their 80s, they were no longer able to care for themselves very well. My grandfather was afraid of leaving the only home they had known for the past 60 years. The idea of having to sell their home and move into a retirement home was an extremely painful experience for them. Indeed, old age for them, and many old Americans can mean not only the possible failure of one's health, but the loss of identity and self-worth. W: Yes, it's true. What do you have to say about the problem of old age? M: Many experts have given talks here that have focused on the medical care, and the development of public services for senior citizens. Today, I'd like to focus my comments on the meaningful roles that elderly can play and should play in our society.

答案 18. A • 19. B • 20. B

18. What does the speaker's mother want her to be?

- A. A confident person.
- B. A warm-hearted person.
- C. A humorous person.

19. Why did the speaker feel lonely in her childhood?

- A. She often traveled by herself.
- B. Her family moved frequently.
- C. Her mother was busy working.

20. What does the speaker mainly talk about?

- A. Importance of home schooling.
- B. Mother-daughter relationship.
- C. A role model in her family.

原文

W: Talking about personal relationships. Well, I'd naturally think of my relationship with my mother. Whenever I need help, my mother is always there for me. She often tells me that I can be anyone I want, as long as I'm confident of myself. She sees my talent and pushes me to do the best I possibly can. As I was growing up, we were often on the move. I had to admit that moving so often made me feel lonely. But my mother did everything she could to help me feel happy. In fact, so much traveling was really a good thing because it made us close. I respect my mother so much as she never treats me as a child, but as an equal. She gives me the freedom to make mistakes and to learn from them all. Unlike friendships that can fade or break, I know I'll always be connected to my mother no matter what I face. She is not just a role model, but someone I love.

原文

W: Hi, everyone. This is the monthly meeting of our club. We've been fortunate to have got good advice from some famous athletes on how to improve our skills and build up our body. Today, we'll hear something different. We're honored to have Emma Wilson here. Emma is a health expert and lecturer from UBC, the University of British Columbia. Emma worked for a football team in Manchester, then for a very successful rugby team in Dublin, and finally ended up working here in Vancouver. Emma says it's challenging to be a health expert, because people can be easily influenced by advertisements that lack scientific support. Also, people aren't willing to change their views about food and nutrition as there is so much confusing information online. It's really important to hear what experts say, and that's why we've invited Emma here. She isn't going to tell us about everything we should eat. But, she will teach us to make better choices. Let's welcome Emma Wilson.

W: So Robert, I guess you must be well into your third decade as a writer. How is life treating you?

M: Fourth decade as a writer. Hmm, let me get my calculator out. Well, I guess I have been writing novels since the 1980s. So you're right. But I have been writing all of my life. And to answer your question, life has been treating me excellently. W: Can I ask you about your childhood? Were you a bookish child? M: In a strange way, I was a non-reader until I turned 9. I used to play basketball in the schoolyards of Brooklyn. My father was a high school teacher of physics and chemistry. And he was a big reader. He would bring books back from his high school library. One day I read the last chapter of a book, the title of which I've long since forgotten. I liked it so much that I started reading the remainder. Interestingly, I read the chapters backwards until I got to the beginning. I really loved the experience, and I soon became an eager reader. Then my father would bring piles of books home from the library. And I would read them all, and they were all fiction. I must add that I started reading the books from the start, as opposed to working backwards.

原文

M: Hello, I'm Maxim Vengarov, and I'm very happy to share with you my connection with open Tchaikovsky Competition. It was June 1986 when I came to Moscow to participate in open Tchaikovsky Competition at the age of 10 from Chelyabinsk. This was actually the turning point of my life. Then I attended a world music festival in Berlin. And it was interesting to say that a kid made his breakthrough already at the age of 10. And that was me. Now as a judge of the competition, I can see clearly the huge challenges facing the musicians in the competition. Where else can you see young players playing within ten days—classical works and Russian traditional music before coming to the final stage? As a musician, it's important to give maximum attention and time to your own reflections of your own feelings. So, what I'm really looking for in the competition is to meet someone who can touch me musically. I want to see the seed, at least the seed of the great tree that can grow. I would go for this violinist. I would go for this musician.

M: Oh, I had a truly incredible experience. I dropped by a yard sale on Saturday and got several books. W: Novels? M: A novel and two poetry collections. As I leafed through the novel, a piece of paper fell out. It was an air ticket from 2012. The flight was from Los Angeles to Chicago and the name on the ticket was Ashley Louis. W: Was it? M: Yes. Ashley, my sister. In 2012, she lived in Los Angeles and her husband worked in Chicago. Both of them often flew between two cities. I asked the seller where he got the book. He said it was bought at a second-hand bookstore in Los Angeles three years ago. Last year, he and his family moved from Los Angeles to Philadelphia. W: So, all the way across the country, your sister's old book landed in your hands. That's really crazy.

W: Morning, Mark. M: Morning, Clara. How was your weekend? W: Great. I went to my grandpa's. He invited us to pick vegetables on his farm. My daughter had a great time there. What about you? M: Oh, I had a truly incredible experience. I dropped by a yard sale on Saturday and got several books. W: Novels? M: A novel and two poetry collections. As I leafed through the novel, a piece of paper fell out. It was an air ticket from 2012. The flight was from Los Angeles to Chicago and the name on the ticket was Ashley Louis. W: Was it? M: Yes. Ashley, my sister. In 2012, she lived in Los Angeles and her husband worked in Chicago. Both of them often flew between two cities. I asked the seller where he got the book. He said it was bought at a second-hand bookstore in Los Angeles three years ago. Last year, he and his family moved from Los Angeles to Philadelphia. W: So, all the way across the country, your sister's old book landed in your hands. That's really crazy.

- B. It's the best in Indiana.
- C. It's getting stronger.

原文

W: Victor, you've been here in Indiana for six weeks now. How are you feeling? M: I think I've got used to college life, going to classes, working out and hanging out with my friends. Though there's pressure to meet deadlines, life here is never boring. W: What's been hard about being an Indianan basketball player? M: Well, the training is very competitive, weightlifting and running every day. It's not like high school. In high school, I really didn't have to do that. I'm just trying to get used to it. And I think I am. W: At this point, how do you see yourself fitting into this group? M: I think we're all different. George is from Britain. Chris and Leo are from Australia. I'm from France. And the rest are Americans. But I get along with everybody. You know, we are really starting to bond. It's great to see how we grow each day as a team. W: Thanks, Victor. I wish you a very happy and fruitful stay in Indiana.

- 11. What does Becky like about living with her parents?
- A. They have a big house.
  - B. They cook meals for her.
  - C. They pay all her expenses.
- 12. What does Ethan suggest Becky do regarding her mother?
- A. Have patience.
  - B. Provide company.
  - C. Express gratitude.
- 13. Why is Ethan concerned about his parents living on their own?
- A. They may feel lonely.
  - B. They may fail to get along.
  - C. They may have an emergency.

原文

W: Ethan, have you thought about getting your own house? M: Yeah. But I'm convinced my parents love having me back. What about you? W: Um... Not sure yet. Right now I enjoy getting my meals cooked for me every day. M: Do you pay a contribution to the house? W: Of course, I do. But it's still much less than I would pay to live in my own flat. Right? M: Obviously. W: The only thing I don't like is that my mom wants to know every part of my life. Becky, what are you doing tomorrow? Where? With whom? The same questions every day. M: Moms are like that. They ask because they care. You've got to be patient with them. My parents ask those questions too, but I may not move out soon. The thought of leaving them fills me with fear. What if one of them falls over? What if they both have a fall together? W: That would be terrible.

17. What do the man and the woman both want to do?

- A. Apply for a new position.
- B. Offer their staff a salary raise.
- C. Improve their management skills.

原文

W: It's a pretty good conference, huh? M: Yeah. All speakers are well-known and knowledgeable in the subject matter. Did you listen to John Miller's speech on how to avoid business risks this morning? W: No, I missed that one. I went to a speech at Alan Brown Hall. The speaker was David Thompson. M: Oh, that should be a good one, too. I attended his lecture last year. By the way, there will be a workshop this afternoon on how to motivate employees. Are you interested? W: Sure. I was promoted to the position of manager a few months ago. And I have to manage a staff of 12 people. It can be quite a difficult situation sometimes. That's why I am here today. M: Same here. I only have seven people reporting to me. Yet, sometimes I feel like pulling my hair out. I need to find a way to create harmony within my department.

- B. Twice a week.
- C. Three times a week.

原文

W: Welcome to Star Fitness Club. I'm Tina Harrison. Before you start, I'd like to offer you some tips. We all know that regular exercise is important, but few of us know how to exercise properly. I've seen many people make the same workout mistakes in this place. One mistake people often make is sticking to the same routine. It is not good for building up your muscles. I'd like to suggest that you change your routine every other month. What's more, you can try different kinds of workouts, such as jogging, biking, or swimming. This can help keep your whole body in shape. Another mistake most people make is to workout intensely almost every day. You need to give your body a break, and allow time for the muscles to grow. It is not the harder the better. Two hard workout days every week is enough. If you really hate to skip a day, you can plan easy exercises on other days. However, experts' suggestion is that you take one day off completely each week.
